FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

FREE PERSONAL FINANCE EVENT FOR KANSAS HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

Personal Finance Classrooms in Kansas Can Receive Free Resources and Training

WICHITA, KS – High school personal finance teachers from all over Kansas are invited to Wichita State University (WSU) campus on June 24-26, 2014 for the 2014 Financial Fitness Extravaganza. The Kansas Council for Economic Education (KCEE) has organized this FREE event to provide all personal finance teachers with all the resources needed along with up-to-date training by professionals in the field. The conference will take place at the W. Frank Barton School of Business, Clinton Hall Room 126. This event is sponsored by the Fred C. and Mary R. Koch Foundation.

The registration, meals, lessons plans, dormitory housing, and optional graduate credit with full tuition scholarship are all FREE for full-semester high school personal finance course teachers. Teachers attending have the option of receiving graduate credit from Emporia State University, University of Kansas, Pittsburg State University and Wichita State University.
