SATISFACTION OF EMPLOYERS (INITIAL LEVEL PROGRAMS) | R4.2

Satisfaction of employers of completers from initial level programs is demonstrated through administration of the annual Initial Level Employer Survey. This survey was developed, validated, and is administered by the EPP in the College of Applied Studies at Wichita State University.

The Initial Level Employer Survey was administered in the Spring of 2024. Specifically, employers of individuals who had completed their initial level teacher preparation program during the Fall 2022-Summer 2023 academic year received an invitation to complete the survey. The Unit response rate for 2023 was 38.6%. The following Figure 1 and Tables 1-9 summarize the employer satisfaction data collected through administration of the Spring 2024 Initial Level Employer Survey.

STAKEHOLDER INVOLVEMENT | R5.3 | RA5.3

The EPP values input from various internal and external partners to inform continuous improvement. Below are meetings conducted in 2023-2024 that included both internal and external stakeholder involvement in program design, evaluation, and continuous improvement.

Date	Committee/ Meeting	Purpose	Members/Participants
Monthly	Initial Licensure Teacher Preparation Program Committee (ILTPC)	To provide overall program curricular leadership for Initial Licensure Programs within the Professional Education Unit. This committee is charged with the following: 1) reviewing data related to initial licensure programs, 2) providing feedback and making decisions about unit operations relevant to initial licensure programs, and 3) review of curriculum and assessment plan changes. This committee reviews recommendations provided by the college assessment committee and accreditation steering committee.	Internal stakeholders; Members are made up of Initial Licensure Program Chairs, administrative representative from the College of Fine Arts, CAS Advising Center Director, and Associate Dean for Research and Assessment
Monthly	Advanced Programs Committee (APC)	To provide overall program curricular leadership for Advanced Programs within the Professional Education Unit. This committee is charged with the following: 1) reviewing data related to advanced programs, 2) providing feedback and making decisions about unit operations relevant to advanced programs, and 3) review of curriculum and assessment plan changes. This committee reviews recommendations provided by the college assessment committee and accreditation steering committee.	Internal stakeholders; Members are made up of Advanced Program Chairs, Department Heads, and Associate Dean for Research and Assessment
Monthly	Accreditation Steering Committee	This committee's work is focused solely on matters of accreditation and state level program approval processes. This committee meets less frequently (1 time per semester) when accreditation and program reviews are not in progress. It is in this committee where matters relevant to the entire professional education unit are discussed, such as information related to the annual reporting process, data management system, scheduling and facilitating program advisory council meetings, and review of unit level data and reports (i.e., professional education unit report). During its review of unit level data and reports, recommendations from the CAS Assessment Committee's (AC) review are provided and discussed further for feedback and	Internal Stakeholders; program chairs from initial and advanced programs within the Professional Education Unit, administrative representative from College of Fine Arts.

		action planning. In some cases, recommendations are made for further review and decision making to occur at ILTPC, APC, or by individual program committees. Programs that are scheduled for review by the CAS AC are notified during this meeting.
Varied, but typically monthly	Program Committee Meetings	There is generally one program committee for each program. It is through the Program Committees that most program changes are initiated, implemented, assessed, and then reaffirmed or redesigned. Program Committees are responsible for: 1) providing overall program curricular leadership; 2) reviewing aggregate program candidate and related unit operations assessment data and any special data on assessment properties, 3) establishing and convening the program advisory council; 4) working with relevant faculties/departments to discuss and implement suggested program changes; 5) gathering information/writing reports/responding to special requests for accrediting bodies; 6) maintaining minutes of committee meetings.	Internal Stakeholders; Program faculty
March 2024, and as needed by individual programs	Program Advisory Council Meetings	Program Advisory Councils are convened by their respective program committees and are responsible for: 1) Providing input and advice on programs, including need, curricula, assessments; 2) providing input and advice on tentative program review results/recommendations from program committee based upon program data summaries; 3) providing input/feedback on matters of general concern to school personnel; and, 4) serving as program advocates.	Internal and External Stakeholders; Each PAC must have at least 5 members that represent the program's various constituents, especially area practitioners. At least one member is a current candidate in the program and at least one member is a graduate from the program. The faculty program chair convenes the PAC.
