How to use this Syllabus

This syllabus provides you with information specific to this course, and it also provides information about important university policies. This document should be viewed as a course overview; it is not a contract and is subject to change as the semester evolves.

Academic Integrity

Students are responsible for knowing and following the Student Code of Conduct http://webs.wichita.edu/inaudit/ch8_05.htm and the Student Academic Honesty policy http://webs.wichita.edu/inaudit/ch2_17.htm.

COEd Academic Honesty policy

A standard of honesty, fairly applied to all students, is essential to a learning environment. Students abridging a standard of honesty must accept the consequences; penalties are assessed by appropriate classroom instructors or other designated people. Serious cases may result in discipline at the college or University level and may result in suspension or dismissal. Dismissal from a college for academic dishonesty, constitutes dismissal from the University. (WSU Student Code of Conduct)

Course Description:

This course provides counselors and other human service workers with an overview of the addictive process. Theories of addiction counseling and application of these theories will comprise a significant part of this course, particularly with how they apply to work with individuals, couples, families, and groups. This course is taught as an online course as well as a hybrid course with online assignments and tests. For the online course, class member interaction occurs through a discussion board.

Definition of a Credit Hour

3 credit hour class: Success in this 3 credit hour course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction and preparation/studying or course related activities for a total of 135 hours.

Course Delivery:

Class time will include seminar style class discussions, experiential learning exercises, collaborative group work, some didactic learning/lecture, and time for students to work on class assignments with immediate feedback from peers and professor. Outside of class, students will access lectures, PowerPoints, and other learning materials from Blackboard as well as read all assigned readings. Students are evaluated through examinations, written papers, attendance, and participation in the aforementioned assignments.

Prerequisites: Graduate standing

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

The mission of the Counseling Program is to provide competent, collaborative, and reflective education professionals who are highly educated, visionary, character-driven, ethical counselors for Kansas school districts (in general) and the urban/suburban areas in the Wichita State University service area (in particular) who are prepared to practice in a complex, accountability-focused setting and to advocate for all learners and for high quality schooling.

The most important purpose of counseling is to help clients learn how to make decisions and develop ways of thinking, feeling, and behaving so that they can be responsible and productive members of a multicultural and technological society. Counselors must understand how people grow and develop, how to maintain effective interpersonal relations, and how to be ethical and professional in their actions. They must be well-grounded in the theory and research in counseling and must be provided opportunities to apply these to the world of practice.

The goal of this program, through academic and field experiences combined with systematic student reflection, is to produce caring, competent, ethical, counseling professionals capable of dealing with the personal, social, career, empowerment, and educational concerns of their clients. Consistent with this philosophy the goals of the course are to enhance your ability to do the following:

1. Understand the theories and etiology of addictions and addictive behaviors, including strategies for prevention, interventions, and treatment.
2. Understands the effects of racism, discrimination, sexism, power, privilege, and oppression on one's own life and the lives of addicted clients.
3. Demonstrate the ability to understand the ethical standards of professional organizations and credentialing bodies and applications of ethical and legal considerations in counseling.
4. Advocacy processes needed to address institutional and social barrier that impede access, equity, and success for clients.
5. Recognize the potential for substance use disorders to mimic and coexist with a variety of medical and psychological disorders.
6. Understands the range of mental health service delivery—such as inpatient, outpatient, partial treatment, aftercare—and the clinical mental health services network.
7. Knows the disease concept and etiology of addiction and co-occurring disorders.
8. Able to identify standard screening and assessment instruments for substance use disorders and process addictions.

9. Understands the established diagnostic criteria for mental and emotional disorders, and describes treatment modalities and placement criteria within the continuum of care.
10. Knows the impact of co-occurring substance abuse disorders on medical and psychological disorders.
11. Self-care strategies appropriate to the counselor role.

Technology Expectations

The COEd Technology Center is available to College of Education students, faculty, and staff. A wide variety of technology equipment is available for student projects and assignments (e.g., wireless laptops, classroom performance systems, and digital cameras). Tech Staff are available during open lab hours to reserve equipment and answer questions. For detailed information about equipment and services, and a current Tech Center calendar, visit the Tech Center website at <http://www.wichita.edu/education/techcenter>

- Be able to use E-mail, including document attachments.
- Be able to acquire, use and develop multimedia software (i.e., PowerPoint/Keynote presentations, animated graphics, digital audio, digital video) applicable to education, training, and practice
- Be able to help clients search for and evaluate various types of counseling-related information via the Internet, including information about careers, employment opportunities, educational and training opportunities, financial assistance/scholarships, treatment procedures, and social and personal information.

Performance Assessment:

College policy requires that all College of Education programs be performance-based. In particular, this requires that program candidates meet criteria established at each of at least four Transition Points in academic programs. Transition Point requirements may include passing various specific courses and obtaining certain GPAs as well as receiving passing ratings (acceptable or target level) on certain required assessments, some of which are embedded within program coursework.

Students in the counseling program failing to achieve an acceptable performance on this required assessment will be provided with a limit of 1-2 remediation opportunity/opportunities. The university is not able to recommend individuals for licensure/endorsement who fail to attain an acceptable rating on required assessments, even though they may receive an acceptable course grade or exceed minimum GPAs.

ACA Code of Ethics Statement – Personal Values

A.4.b. Personal Values Counselors are aware of—and avoid imposing—their own values, attitudes, beliefs, and behaviors. Counselors respect the diversity of clients, trainees, and research participants and seek training in areas in which they are at risk of imposing their values onto clients, especially when the counselor's values are inconsistent with the client's goals or are discriminatory in nature.

Professional Dispositions Statement

Introduction: Although academic performance is a crucial factor in evaluating candidate performance, there are other interpersonal and professional skills that are equally important in determining the professional readiness of a particular candidate to enter their chosen field. Therefore, in addition to academic performance, students in the CLES Department will also be evaluated on the following professional readiness indicators. Failure to adhere to any of these expected professional dispositions will result in a remediation plan and may in some cases result in dismissal from the student's program of study.

Indicators of Professional Readiness: Essential characteristics expected of all candidates matriculated in a degree program in the CLES Department are as follows:

1. Willingness and ability to self-explore and reflect on experiences in order to grow as a professional;

2. Ability to demonstrate excellent listening skills;
3. Ability to effectively communicate with others;
4. Ability to work respectfully, appropriately, and effectively with authority figures including university professors and site supervisors;
5. Ability to hear and accept critical feedback and to integrate and make changes based on communicated feedback;
6. Ability to act according to the professional expectations of the classroom and school/agency placement sites especially with regard to:
 - Appropriate dress
 - Promptness
 - Respectful attitude and behavior;
7. Ability to work effectively with administrators, staff, students/clients, and parents;
8. Ability to engage students/clients in a competent, ethical, and professional manner that respects and enhances their inherent dignity and worth;
9. Demonstrated adherence to the ethical guidelines related to ability to recognize and value client diversity in terms of race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability, social class, etc.;
10. Demonstrated ability to practice in a manner consistent with the ACA/NASP or other professional ethical guidelines; especially those related to ensuring the welfare of all students/clients and doing no harm to students/clients.

Academic Requirements and Evaluation

Reading: It is expected that you will come to class having read the chapters assigned in order to facilitate discussion. Your opinions are important to both the class and your experience in the program, so please come to class prepared.

Attendance and Participation: A rich and healthy exchange of ideas, reading, and feedback is essential to your growth as a counselor in terms of your ethical decision making skills. You are expected to be an active speaker as well as an active listener, contributing usefully to class discussions. Learning to be an ethical counselor involves assessing one's personal values and assumptions and learning to understand the values and assumptions of others. Therefore, students will be expected to discuss their personal values and assumptions in class. Wise students will avoid missing class; participation is an opportunity to gain additional insight into concepts and to share ideas.

Attendance and participation (5% of final grade). Missing more than two class periods could result in point deductions. It is the student's responsibility to notify the instructor prior to an absence you know will occur.

Complete All Assignments on Time: Students are expected to complete all assignments as instructed and ON TIME. Late assignments will be considered only in cases of exceptional circumstances. In all cases, it is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor to discuss special considerations/modifications of assignments or completion of missed work. No extra credit.

Blackboard Instruction

If you are new to Blackboard I would recommend that you view the Blackboard Tutorial. The purpose of the tutorial is to familiarize you with the basic sections and procedures associated with Blackboard.

- Check the 'Announcements' page on Bb on a regular basis.
- For you to be able to successfully complete this course, an essential pre-requisite is that your instructor is able to communicate with you via e-mail. This course is conducted on the platform known as Blackboard. All e-mails that I send to you are sent via Blackboard. Thus it is very important to ensure that there is a current e-mail address for you on Blackboard. To make sure that there is an accurate e-mail address for you:
- Look for the button "Tools" once you enter the course and Click "Tools".
- Then click "Personal Information".
- Next click "Edit Personal Information".

Here you will have an opportunity to provide accurate information about yourself. Be sure to enter current e-mail address that you plan to use for this course. If you change your e-mail address in the middle of the semester, it is your responsibility to make the necessary change on Blackboard. Once you have entered your correct address "SUBMIT" the information so it can be updated. NOTE: Please do not e-mail me individually with your e-mail addresses because I cannot make the change on Blackboard. You will need to do this yourself.

Class Protocol

Class attendance and participation (hybrid) are considered important parts of the learning process, and therefore it is expected and strongly encouraged. Note that because of the broad multidisciplinary nature of the course, material presented in class may not be covered in the readings. The student is responsible to know all the material presented, whether from the readings or from class. The student is expected to expend sufficient effort to learn the material, to respect the instructor, and to be attentive and participatory in the classroom.

Activities and Assessments

- Class Attendance/Participation: An important aspect of this course is the exchanging of ideas, opinions, questions, and information. Consequently, you are expected to come to each class fully prepared to participate in classroom discussions.

In arriving at this total, points will be awarded in class discussions as follows:

Obviously well-prepared, significant contributions	10
Well-prepared, good contributions	8
Some preparation, minimal contributions	6
Simply there, little contributions	4
No contribution, no participation	0

Your point total is determined by averaging ratings of your contributions over several class sessions.

2. Blackboard Discussion: Students are expected to make at least two postings per discussion board. Students may use Blackboard (<http://www.wichita.edu/blackboard>) to communicate with the instructor and/or other students. The instructor will monitor these postings, and participation points will be awarded based on quality of participation.

2.1 Blackboard Discussion Grading:

Highly Effective = 4 or 5; Extensive knowledge or skills

Effective = 3 or 4; Substantial knowledge or skills

Developing = 2 or 3; Inadequate knowledge or skills

Ineffective = 0 or 1; Lack of knowledge or skills

Criteria	Discussion Rubric
	Highly Effective	Effective	Developing	Ineffective
Quality of Post	Appropriate comments: thoughtful & reflective	Responds but with minimum efforts. (e.g., I agree with ...)	Poor comments	No posting
Relevant of Post	Prompts further discussion of topic	Makes short or irrelevant remarks	Poor remarks	No posting
Engagement with others	Responds to ideas in a way that advances discussion	Mostly summarizes what others have said without adding to discussion	Poor response to other posts in thread	Ignore other posts in thread

3. Chapter Questions/Video Practice/Case Study/Quiz will be provided through Blackboard (see Blackboard Course Content).
4. Case Study: Students will be expected to write a paper that demonstrates a systematic approach (e.g., CBT, Solution Focused) to substance abuse related cases. More details can be found on Blackboard.

This project will require students to:

- Identify a substance abuse scenario (e.g., the case can be from the textbook or Internet) and provide a summary explaining elements of the scenario (e.g., who, what, when, assessments based on DSM)
 - Develop a counseling strategy (e.g., CBT, Solution Focused, MI) for managing the case
 - APA format, 3-5 pages, including reference (5-10 citations from the textbook or other resources) and cover page.
5. Personal Reflection Paper: Over the course of the semester, you will attend 1 support group (AA or NA) meetings. After the meeting, you will write a brief (no more than 3 typed, double-spaced, pages) reaction paper detailing your response to the meeting.

The reflection paper will be submitted to the instructor via Black Board Assignment Tab

AA or NA meetings may be found via the following link:

<http://www.recovery.org/browse/wichita-ks/>

Students should include the following sections and follow the format below:

- Title Page: an APA style cover page that includes running head, title, your name, course, and session in which it is taught. See the example: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>
- The paper should be written in first-person.
