

ANTH 335

ARCHAEOLOGY OF NORTH AMERICA

Fall 2019, Tuesday/Thursdays 9:30-10:50 AM Dr. Dozier

Pyramids, Ice Age sites, forts, stone tools and ancient metallurgy: North American archaeology has it all! In this course, we will survey the archaeology of North America north of Mexico. We will start with the more than 14,000 year history of humans in North America, then regionally explore how humans adapted to different environments and developed diverse and distinct cultures. Lectures and in-class activities will be enhanced with readings and videos. This is a 3 credit-hour bearing course, prerequisite of ANTH103 or permission of the instructor.

→ Register today! CRN 15360

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY
PHONE: (316) 978-3195
EMAIL: CRYSTAL.DOZIER@WICHITA.EDU

WICHITA STATE
UNIVERSITY