From the 2020-21 virtual Musical Theatre production [title of show] presented real-time by the Media Resources Center & WSU TV.

Lights, Camera, Action!

We're setting the stage, mixing our paints, focusing the lights, stretching our limits...and whetting your appetite!

We are back, and we can't wait to see you, and for you to see us--how we've grown, and what we've been up to.

Just as the flowers open their blossoms, so will the College begin its slow, but steady, opening up of in-person performances and presentations. One of the most frustrating aspects of this past eighteen months has been the disconnect from our patrons that was forced upon us. This separation was worsened because of missed opportunities for public performances, exhibitions, and presentations by our students.

With this calendar, however, we begin the process of announcing our crescendo of opportunities to rectify that--with the cautious acknowledgement that we still have miles to go, and prudent precautions to adhere to for a true and full slate of opportunities to present itself.

That said...the show must go on!

Rodney Miller, Dean

Auditions occur during the first week of classes.
