Opening Keynote Speaker, 1:30 pm—3:00 pm
Rich Bluni, RN
Inspired Nurse
Healthcare, and nursing in particular, is one of the few professions that affords one the opportunity to impact lives on such a profound level, not only physically but emotionally and spiritually as well. Yet the same qualities that make the nursing profession so deeply rewarding can also make it a challenge for us to sustain our energy and passion over time. The “Inspired Nurse” presentation helps us maintain and recapture those elusive qualities. Those of us who call healthcare our life’s work must also take care of ourselves in order to be able to do the challenging physical, emotional and intellectual work that it takes to serve others.

Share thoughts and experiences evident in the lives of school nurses as responsibilities and worries expand while budgets shrink. Join this interactive, relevant, and energetic session to learn more about positive directions, hopes, roadblocks and solutions.

Closing Keynote Speaker, 10:30 am—12:00 pm
Kent Rader, BS
Let It Go, Just Let It Go
The stress reduction keynote titled Let It Go, Just Let It Go is both entertaining, yet informative. Recent surveys report more than half of our employees hate their jobs. The number one reason cited is the stress associated with today’s “business” environment. Having spent twelve years as CFO and CEO of Hospitals, Kent Rader has experienced this stress first hand. This keynote program takes participants on a journey they won't want to end. It begins by showing participants the origins of stressful feelings and how humor is a proven tool in combating these feelings. Kent offers practical ways to include more humor in your life, along with stories that are guaranteed to make you laugh.

“Redefining School Nurse Practice in Kansas”
School health professionals are in unique positions to affect change in their school population, community and within themselves using knowledge and expertise in assessment and health planning to build relationships, collaborate with students, families, and other disciplines to lead change in the health and education of the future of our students. This year’s theme, “Redefining School Nurse Practice in Kansas” reminds us that the unique practice of school nursing provides opportunities to facilitate the connection between important school, community and the child, providing health services seamlessly within educational settings. F. Aligning and Integrating Mental Health and MTSS to Build Priority for Wellness
Presenter: Cherie Blanchat, LSCSW, Systems Coordinator, TASN Autism Tertiary and Behavior Supports, School Mental Health Initiative; Kimber Kasitz, BSN, RN, USD #259, Wichita Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) can impede the ability of children and adolescents to succeed socially and academically. Students dealing with ACEs are more likely to fail a grade, score lower on standardized achievement tests, have more receptive or expressive language difficulties, are suspended or expelled from school more often, and are designated to special education more frequently. Research indicates that 20% of children and youth have a clearly identified need for mental health service but only about one-third of these children receive any help at all. Of children who do receive any type of mental health service, over 70% receive the service from their school. A report compiled by the Center for Children and Families at the University of Kansas found that barriers to addressing these needs in schools include consistency in services, relationships with families, little mental health training, stigma, and access to services. To meet the needs of children and adolescents there needs to be strong, cross-system collaboration between school nurses and community providers.

Presentation times:

G. Reducing Pain and Trauma Associated with Childhood and Adolescent Immunizations
Presenters: Lisa Moritz, RN, Greeley County Health Dept. & USD #200 Tribune; Robert Mangold, RN, Scott County Hospital
Needle fear develops between the ages of 4 and 6 years of age and can last a lifetime, effecting health seeking behaviors as adults, so the importance of making immunization appointments as pleasant and least traumatic as possible is important. Minimizing fear, pain, and trauma during immunization administration through distraction, reassurance, and nursing interventions should be a priority to the immunization provider. This session will highlight best practices and evidence based research that participants can incorporate into their immunization practices.

Presentation times:
- Tuesday, July 17, 2018—3:30 pm

Social media impacts the daily lives of most students in our schools. This breakout will unpack the role of social media in exploitation, which in the worst-case scenarios leads to domestic minor sex trafficking (DMST). Be prepared to take a selfie and then drink from a fire-hose of information: Be educated about the three words that help you understand domestic minor sex trafficking (DMST); the harsh business of selling minors for sex; the fact that demand is high and students are viewed as product to be sold by sex sellers to sex buyers; the overlap between child sexual abuse and DMST; the real foundation of the health problems in a victim; what provider experiences reveal about victims; and indicators of physical, emotional, and mental control. Be empowered to – recognize manipulation tactics; ask the right questions; engage appropriate action steps; talk about apps that can be used to exploit vulnerabilities in students; and know when to step outside “fill in the blank training” in order to truly make a compassionate difference.
