RLA CHANGES

• The response box will be greatly enlarged on the right-hand side of the display. Students will be able to view, write and edit their response more easily.

• The instructions will be reformatted and made clearer on the left-hand side of the display. The instructions have not changed, but the information that is accessed by clicking on the “ER Answer Guidelines” will now be more accessible as part of the instructions.

• The instructions will appear with selected words in bold type. When a student reads only these bolded words, they can still understand the task.

• These enhanced instructions will also appear on all accommodated tests, GED Ready® and Spanish tests.

• The reading material which is currently presented across multiple tabs will be presented in one tab that students scroll through. There will now be just two tabs on the left-hand side of the display: one tab for the revised instructions, and a second tab for the reading material.
