First Year Seminar Checklist
www.wichita.edu/FYS

For Fall 2020 Classes:
Submit CIM course change form to your department by Sept 30, 2019.

For Spring 2021 Classes:
Submit CIM course change form to your department by February 15, 2020.

For Fall 2021 Classes:
Submit CIM course change form to your department by Sept 30, 2020.

The college curriculum committees meet once or twice a month, and the general education committee meets twice a month. In order to get final approval in time for regular schedule building you must plan ahead. Sometimes approvals can be rushed, and additional classes may be added to the schedule late, but this is not ideal.

☐ Attend FYS Training/Information Session hosted monthly by Academic Affairs. Watch for announcement in WSU Today.

☐ Get a copy of the WSU Reads book for your course. Contact Kim Sanlin (Kim.Sandlin@wichita.edu)

☐ Design and develop your First Year Seminar course structure and syllabus. See Instructor Guide and sample syllabi on www.wichita.edu/FYS

☐ Complete the online Curriculum Change Form (CIM) and submit it for approval. https://nextcatalog.wichita.edu/courseadmin/
  - Check the "New course" box on the form
  - Course number should be: WSU 102X (the Registrar's office will provide a unique alpha for your course)
  - Choose your own department and college
  - Indicate which Gen Ed division the course should be assigned to:
    - Nature Sciences, Social and Behavioral Sciences, or Fine Arts and Humanities
  - Check the Diversity content box IF you want the diversity attribute for your course.
  - Check “Yes” for General Education course
  - Check “Yes” for first year seminar course
  - General Education Category is: “Introductory”
  - FYS courses will be capped at 25.
  - Five Gen Ed goals are listed in the CIM form. The established learning outcomes are provided in the FYS Instructor Guide. You simply need to enter what activities, assignments, etc in your class are designed to meet those outcomes.

FYS courses will be routed for approval as follows: department, college curriculum committee, general education committee, diversity committee (if applicable).
Contact Lydia Santiago in Academic Affairs (Lydia.Santiago@wichita.edu) to arrange for the one-time payment of the development stipend of $1500 after you have submitted your CIM form. *

Revise course, as necessary, based on feedback from the department, college, and/or gen ed committees.

Once course has received final approval, contact your department or college schedule builder to include the course for the semester you plan to offer it. You will need to provide the days and times for the class. All classes must meet at least two times each week. If you are in Fairmount College, your contact is Kathy Gale in the LAS Advising Center.

Attend Instructor Workshop organized by Student Success and held annually in May (fall courses) and December (for spring courses). Place your request for a Peer Coach at this meeting if you haven't done so already.

Once semester is underway, contact Lydia in Academic Affairs (Lydia.Santiago@wichita.edu) to receive the teaching stipend.
- The amount of the teaching stipend will be at the established overload rate of each department/college. Half of the stipend will be paid near the beginning of the semester and half near the end.
- If the course is taught in-load, the department can request funding at the established rate for an adjunct to cover the instructor's regular course.

Attend instructor support meetings (3 per semester).

Questions? Contact:
Carolyn Shaw carolyn.shaw@wichita.edu Office of Academic Affairs
Kim Sandlin kim.sandlin@wichita.edu Office of Student Success

* Academic Affairs will provide $2,500 (or the minimum rate established in each college) to faculty to teach FYS as an overload or for a department to support an adjunct instructor to cover a faculty member's course if they are teaching FYS in-load. The stipend would be divided in the event of team-taught courses.